Attorney-General Smith read a petition from a Japanese asking for a law to be made permitting the institution of licensed bath houses for Japanese. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

In connection with his financial report, Mr. Damon stated that all the current indebtedness up to October 1st had been ordered paid.

Councilman Brown, from the Judiciary Committee, reported that, in view of the near approach of the term of court of the Second Judicial District. it was not thought advisable to make the instance of Mr. Paine, the tramway any change in the place where such court should be held until after the term was ended. The report was adopted.

From the same committee Mr. Brown reported the bill relating to ear marks on animals, with an amendment Foreign Office. proposed by the committee. Laid on the table to be considered with the original bill.

Mr. Brown, on behalf of the committee, asked for further time to consider the matter of separating the two offices of President and Minister of Occidental and Oriental steamship companies, relating to Chinese passengers who have or may be refused a landing here on account of fraudulent passports or otherwise. The matter virtually asks permission to land passengers here in quarantine whenever it was not deemed desirable to take them on to San Francisco. Mr. Smith stated that in view of the discriminating policy at this port by these companie the application had been denied. The matter was brought up solely for the Councilman Emmeluth called attention to the fact that in the battalion drill last night the Government was the age of forty-five should be required to enroll themselves in some one of the volunteer companies, and all over that age in the Citizens' Reserve.

Mr. Brown moved to refer the matter to the Executive, and followed it up with a speech denouncing it. After considerable discussion, the matter was referred to the Military Committee.

In his speech, during the delivery of which the Councilman became quite heated, Mr. Brown scored the Annexation Club, claiming that it was attemptng to dictate to the Government what it should and should not do, and that the Government owed it to itself to sit down upon all such interference with its prerogatives as the revolution

The second reading of the approoriation bill was then called up and the bill passed.

The bill in relation to the extension of time of the franchise of the Oahu Railroad Company was laid over for one week.

The bill in relation to the marking of animals, as amended by the Judiciary Committee, passed its first reading. At 2:50 the Councils adjourned.

THE KALALAU LEPERS.

The Murderer Koolau-Other Matters of Kindred Interest.

The following letter is from K. Wili Kinney of Kauai, who was instrumental in securing the fourteen natives, who of William Kinney, of Honomu planta

The present Government will receive a loud cheer from the most senthat are already lepers that I am after the most — it's the catching by the Isaac Co healthy ones of the leprosy while tending their diseased relatives.

There are plenty of them to-day that try to play kahuna work with the disease. Why? Because kahunaism is not tried to be stopped at all. There ought to be a law passed forbidding the Kalalau natives from receiving lepers again in their little valley.

Now, of course, they swear that they wish that they hadn't helped Koolau at all by giving him poi and aiding him in lots of other little things. All the days before Mr. Stoltz's arrival, the stuck up ones used to brag about ruling Kalalau. But when Stoltz came most of them fled, although with the intention that they would do some shooting if it became necessary; and there was one good old fellow, and that's Kapahee, the famous swimmer. He gave up and also forced his relatives to give up, Koolau is not in Kalalau at present He is supposed to be on the Makaweli border. It's a shame that Koolau skipped out of his stronghold the night before the P. G. forces fired at the place. Koolau went down to Wahinealoha's that night and demanded food. When he got through he went towards the sea. Old Wahinealoha and others that were in the house were shaking out of their breeches during Koolau's feast. Wahinealoha was too scared to run up and tell the Marshal even the next day. He was afraid that the forces would not find Koolau if he told them the direction Koolau went, then Koolau would make it hot for him.

This is a fact told by some strangers that were in the house that night, and Wahinealoha had to come out with the truth after all. Koolau told them that he had 490 cartridges to use and one of them was for Kaumeheiwa's brains. Kaumeheiwa is the most civilized native in Kalalau. Stoltz stopped with him. All of the lepers that went to Molokai write to their relatives that it's the best thing happened to them that they were taken. K. W. KINNEY. KALALAU, Kauai, Oct. 10, 1893.

Last Night's Drill.

A GRAND EFFORT TO FLOAT THE MIOWERA.

The Mariposa Late-The Cummins Ar rives - The Beaconsfield and Adams.

An attempt to float the Miowera will be made at high tide to-morrow morning, which occurs, according to the table, at 5:20 A. M. At present there are seven samson poles in position along the ship's sides, and when the attempt is made there will be eight. McDowell's men will all quit work early this evening in order to get a good rest before the grand effort. On this attempt, in a great measure, depends either the success or failure of the whole scheme, and unless Mr. Mc-Dowell is fully as confident of success as he is reputed to be, he will hardly sleep very sound to-night.

A morning paper states that there is scarcely any difference between the cruiser Adams and the full-rigged ship Beaconsfield. Those on the waterfront to-day who know the difference between a bark-rigged steamer and a full-rigged ship are earnest in their search for the resemblence between the vessels mentioned.

The recent blowing up of the rock at Brewers' wharf has piled up considerable loose coral on the bottom, which will have to be removed before deep water vessels can make use of the new berth, and the dredger is to begin operations there to morrow morning. Captain Smith was busy during the forenoon hunting up his crew.

The Mariposa, due to-day, not having been telephoned up to the time the STAR goes to press, it is the own account as it wants to save itself general belief that she will not get in the humiliation of standing by and before to-morrow morning. This is not surprising as at this time of the year the English mails are often late in reaching San Francisco.
